DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the status of application 10/286,677 needs to be updated. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 3-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are confusing because it is not clear if applicant is claiming a process/method of making a concrete slab as called for in claim 1 or is just claiming an article. It should be noted that there are no positive method steps recited.

Furthermore, upon applicant clarify above-mentioned claims, it is a possibility that the method claims could be restrictable. The preamble of claim 4 does not commensurate with the preamble of claim 3 from which it depends.

Insofar claims 3-8 are understood, the following rejections below apply.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3673

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Barth et al.

(US 4185939) in view of Jansson et al. (US 5108222).

Barth et al. discloses a concrete slab (see abstract) having thicker portions (4,6,8) and thinner portions (12,18) wherein the frangible sections are along the thinner portions. The staggered thicker portions are depicted in Figure 1. Barth et al. discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Barth et al. lacks flexible geogrid member embedded within the slab (blocks). Jansson et al. teaches flexible geogrid member embedded within slab (blocks). It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Barth et al to include the flexible geogrid member as taught by Jansson et al. since this would ensure that the blocks would hold together well, even after fracture at the predetermined breaking points (frangible sections).

Double Patenting

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

7. Claims 1-8 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-6 of U.S. Patent No. 6612776. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the both teach frangible concrete blocks embedded with flexible geogrid.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Wipo document (WO 93/07339) teaches frangible concrete blocks with embedded flexible member. German document (DE 4020650) teaches patterned frangible concrete blocks.
